The Offertory

“I Got Me Flowers”-Vaughn Williams

Gary Van Essen, baritone

This Easter text by George Herbert, published in 1633, is an example of an adapted Baroque morning poem, in which a man typically urges his lover to arise and begin their day together because time is short. Herbert reverses this poem’s pattern and suggests that Jesus was up (arisen) before the speaker and that, with Jesus, time is eternal. The music was composed in 1911 as part of a larger work, Five Mystical Songs, by Ralph Vaughn Williams.

I got me flowers to strew thy way; I got me boughs off many a tree: But thou wast up by break of day, and brought'st thy sweets along with thee. The Sun arising in the East, though he give light, and the East perfume; If they should offer to contest with thy arising, they presume. Can there be any day but this, though many suns to shine endeavor? We count three hundred, but we miss: there is but one, and that one ever.

Please welcome The Rt. Rev'd Michael W. Creighton back to Christ Church Parish as our Celebrant and Preacher this morning; Bishop Creighton served briefly during a transition in the Parish some years ago. He is IX Bishop of Central Pennsylvania; he is retired and lives in Annapolis. Bishop Creighton is the son and grandson of bishops – a distinction he holds with only one other bishop in the history of The Episcopal Church.
